Matheny's Moronics

Where the errors, slip-ups, contradictions and stupid elucidations of a known hoaxer, culture jammer, and one admitting to qualifying for the titles "liar and charlatan", are chronicled for the amusement of his intended victims, and those who love the truth of the Incunabula Theory and otherwise...

See the link below for a feel of how much time Matheny spent on posting and reposting the Incunabula info, when he should have just sat his ass down and tried to comprehend it. Then again, perhaps that wasn't possible! Ohhh. That mugshot looks like someone just hurt his feelings...

Welcome to our "humor" page. This is where we will display the ample evidence that Joseph Matheny has no more of an understanding or appreciation of the Incunabula 1990/1991 catalog than someone who believes it's a hoax. Probably, of course, because he doesn't believe it and never has. That such sentiments on his part, haven't kept him from trying to convince as many people as possible that he does believe it or that it's real has everything to do with his background as a hoaxer and culture jammer who loves to fool and manipulate people so he can see how they react. Because he doesn't believe it, he has never studied the science behind it, and he has only a pedestrian grasp of the subject.

This interesting state of affairs lends itself to near comical consequences, as he authoritatively tries to convince people that he knows that of which he speaks. The results, of course, upon examination screeeaamm NOT! It's not that we have anything against Mr. Matheny. But it's just that he's been messing around in our backyard so-to-speak. And since he's proven beyond a shadow of a doubt that he never went to one of the other worlds with a travel cult -- and during his big "mainstream" debut spouted things that were so wrong we were flabbergasted -- we just wish he would stop. For his own sake!

We never could appreciate practical jokes, but some people can. OK, the joke's over. Our existence was brought to light by Matheny reprinting the letter from Moon. So we're back in business. And aside from a little humor here-and-there, WE'RE ALL BUSINESS.

Of "Science" and Stupidity ...

One of the clear examples proving that Matheny is not at all in tune with the Incunabula Theory is posted for all the World to see on his site at incunabula.org. With the heading link that says "Some Scientific Proof?", this example is an article from the February 19, 2000 issue of Science News Online which we have provided a link of our own to below. Entitled "Hunting for Higher Dimensions", it contains the word that is one of the most misleading that you'll find in this field -- "dimensions" -- because of its plurality of definition and use. This is due to its use in mathematics, physics, astrophysics and -- unfortunately -- its abuse and bastardization in the New Age community.

When discussing Incunabula related matters, "dimension" implies one of the 'Many Worlds' of the Everett/Wheeler hypothesis as is noted in the Ong's Hat brochure subtitle "Gateway To The Dimensions". However, to one who is truly privy to and understanding the material and concepts of the Incunabula 1990/1991 catalog, discernment of the meaning of the word "dimension" is easily identified in the context with which it is used. But on Matheny's site, the link to the article says "Some Scientific Proof?" implying that there is possibly an intimate connection between said article and the Incunabula/Ong's Hat material. In reality, doing so is like pointing to a group of chicks pecking on the ground and saying "Some sparrows?". Only a small child, someone who is really ignorant, or an idiot would ask such a question since -- although both creatures are small and have feathers -- chicks are baby chickens and sparrows are small birds, their feathering is completely different and they're both totally different colors.

And so it is just as easy for us to see the difference between the subject of the Science News article and the "dimensions" of the Incunabula just by looking at the title. Any doubts of that are set aside by going to the 7th paragraph of the article where it says in the second sentence, "At the larger size, still only about 1/10,000th the size of a proton, the extra dimensions might produce effects detectable by the current generation of particle accelerators or their immediate successors..." That's right, 1/10,000 the size of a proton! It's clear that the "extra" dimensions that they think they're finding are akin to superstring theory and have no relation at all to the those of the Many Worlds. But then again, like I said, anyone who truly understood the material and had studied it would have known that.

That Matheny posted such a link as possible "scientific proof" speaks volumes and could possibly explain why on "Coast To Coast AM" he stated that the 5th dimension had some operational relationship to parallel universes. Just see the 13th paragraph of the same article. But I've just given away a clue to one of the 10 Stupid Things he did with Mike Siegel. In any event, whether he has the mind of a small child, is ignorant, simply an idiot, or some bizarre mixture of all three, Joe Matheny certainly isn't anywhere near to understanding the Incunabula, Ong's Hat or in any position to pretend that he can! Needless to say, his activities in this pompous and arrogant pursuit that he's admitted "insinuating" himself into will provide the rest of us with more laughs than George Kastanza ever did on "Seinfeld". Stay tuned!

"Coast-to-Coast AM" smash for Joe? NOT! It was a bust !!!

Yes, that's right, folks. We told you that ol' Joe Matheny bombed on "Coast-to-Coast AM" with Mike Siegel but was clueless as to that fact. Well, check out the "returns" so-to-speak on the Coast-to-Coast message board. I love the first one where immediately a listener who visited incunabula.org got a feel that it was another "Blair Witch Project". In other words, a "media hoax"! And of course he's right! Then there's the mention of the excellent discussions going on over at <http://members.home.net/dentra/ongoing.htm> which of course are now falling apart due to a lack of new information. You see, they have to wait for Matheny to make more up and a number of the posters over there are beginning to realize that that's what's going on!

But as you read down the Coast-to-Coast message board, you will see how the overall feeling that people got from Matheny was confused because they thought he sounded credible on the show (which he did) but they had an aura of suspicion about the site. In fact, it is noted by one poster that there is a surprising "lack of interest" in Matheny on the message board despite the current activity of interest on the other boards at the Coast-to-Coast AM site in related subjects like time-travel. Could it be that most of the listeners knew they were being snowed?

Of course we don't blame them. And it's just this kind of negative response that we're trying to save the Incunabula 1990/1991 catalog from. Matheny doesn't have the truth. He never had the truth. He doesn't care about the truth. Then again, what hoaxer ever did?!

Coast To Coast "Responds" to Matheny =>

"Matheny Madness" comes to our Message Board!

Well, we really didn't expect what happened, but we're still NOT surprised. "Madman" Matheny and his loony losers attacked our message board full of libel and lunacy, led by a cracked geek who hides behind the name of the famous Italian poet/philosopher Dante Alighieri. They made literal fools of themselves first by trying to say that a number of us are all "Marshall Barnes" because of the similarities of IP numbers (a claim that was easily shot down with a map showing the IPs in question are assigned out of a central processing center that handles a network from Indiana to Washington D.C.!) to the baseless libel of Marshall being a cyber stalker!

Of course, no victim, no complaint, or anything was ever offered to back up the accusation (especially since cyber stalking is a crime). But then again, could anything else be expected from such a group? OF COURSE NOT! In stark contrast, when we've accused Matheny of things, we always backed them up. Most of the things we accused him of came right from the "horse's (well, in this case, the jackass's) mouth".

So, in a while we will be removing most of the garbage posted by the denizens of the Dark Planet board and flushing them in our little anime potty where they belong. When we reveal the truth about Dante Alighieri, much of why this is happening -- beyond any role that Matheny plays -- will become very clear and very understandable. And that truth will be coming VERY SOON. So Stay Tuned!

The 10 Stupid Things that Matheny said on the "Coast-to-Coast AM" radio show

Yes, ladies and gentleman, the star attraction of this page is complete. We're waiting on server problems to be solved so we can add some last minute links and then unveil it to you in all its glory. And it does exceed what has been advertised. It's not just 10 stupid things -- it's TWENTY. To tell you the truth, it could have been more. But that's all we decided to provide. Ten is bad enough. Twenty is more than ridiculous. And more than enough to prove our point about Joseph Matheny and what's really been going on in that pointy little head of his.

So what can you expect to see? Well, you'll be able to hear it too because we don't want you to take our word for anything. So, you'll hear and see how Matheny contradicts everything in sight including HIMSELF! That's right. Along with the one childhood moral that we know he never paid any attention to -- the boy that cried WOLF! -- he obviously ignored the one about lying being harder than telling the truth because it gets hard to keep ALL THE LIES STRAIGHT. That is exactly the problem he suffers from during his much ballyhooed gab fest on the show.

He contradicts the Incunabula catalog, he contradicts the Ong's Hat brochure, he contradicts himself a number of times (one time within minutes of making his original comment!) He contradicts known historical facts. He says really stupid things about time and space and time-travel that are just numbing because he clearly appears to be so clueless about what a fool he's making of himself. Based on his claim to have researched all of this material, after you finally see and hear our little presentation, you will come to one of three possible conclusions about Joe Matheny and his involvement in this whole Incunabula matter. (1) He is a babbling buffoon and desperate for attention. (2) He is a liar and a charlatan with an ego so big that he tripped himself up because he underestimated everyone else's capacity to double check his b.s. (3) He's actually BOTH.

BUT IN THE MEANTIME... We have decided to provide you with a link to listen to the program yourself IN ADVANCE of our presentation. <Click> on the link below and listen to the first 90 minutes of the program. See how many of the 20 screw-ups you can catch on your own. Then e-mail your results to our webmaster (it.t@bolt.co). The person to catch the most of what we caught gets a free copy of the "Signals Across the Universe" audio box set -- 4 audio tapes of Incunabula/Ong's Hat/Bosoks Project interviews, lectures, and a audio tour of A.R.T. Labs experiments from 1992-to-2001! Plus a number of the period documents mentioned during the tapes. A $25 value! We hope to have the problem solved this week, so waste no time!
